

My Mosler Biography:

Ken Wirsing – I joined Mosler in 1972 as a Service Technician at the Belle Ave. Service Center. I was hired by Jack Smith and worked for Mac Kammeron in the Hamilton Repair Center.

After 3 years, I was promoted to Tellermatic Systems Instructor at the National Training Center, reporting to Jim Leonhart (and Later Dave Stanley). When the Tellermatic division closed in 1978, I left Mosler to pursue other opportunities.

In 1989 I was recruited by Al Ryan to return to Mosler and accepted a position as working Installation Supervisor at the Grand Rapids, Michigan office. I remained in that position until my departure from Mosler in 1993 to join the R&D arm of a large corporation.

My wife Cheryl (Meiner) Wirsing and I met at Mosler. We were both working at the Belle Avenue facility (Plant 3) in Hamilton at the time. We were married in 1975.

I am now retired and Cheryl and I live in Wyoming, MI.
